AGS

Association of Geotechnical & Geoenvironmental Specialists

Thursday 22nd April 2027
5:30pm – 8:00pm

Free to attend for early career professionals

EARLY IN YOUR CAREER?
COME AND GET CONNECTED!

Calling all Early Career Professionals! Join the AGS for a free networking evening designed specifically for emerging talent across the geoscience industry.

Taking place alongside the AGS Annual Conference Networking Drinks Reception on the afternoon of Thursday 22nd April, this relaxed event is the perfect opportunity to grow your professional network.

Whether you are new to the sector, developing your career, or simply looking to meet peers at a similar stage, come along and connect with other emerging professionals who are at a similar stage in their journey.

Attendees will also have the opportunity to meet and chat with professionals who have attended the AGS Annual Conference earlier in the day, giving you the chance to broaden your network, exchange ideas and make connections with people from across the industry.

Expect no formal networking or structured agenda; just a friendly, informal setting to grab a drink, spark a conversation, and share ideas.

Spaces are limited and registration is strictly required. To secure your place, email your name, company, university, or college to ags@ags.org.uk.
